

Would you like to train others in your organisation to use Talking Mats?

The Licenced Course teaches you how to train people to use Talking Mats. It focuses on how to provide a constructive framework to allow people to learn from their films, how to manage group dynamics, updates on the latest Talking Mats research and how to answer those frequently asked questions. This is a highly reflective course.

To apply for this training applicants need to:

- Submit a film of their use of Talking Mats to be used during the course
- Provide evidence that they are:
 - Trained and experienced in the use of Talking Mats (3 case examples)
 - Have a good knowledge of language and communication development
 - Have good presentation skills
 - Have an understanding of Talking Mats research

Please note that each participant has to complete the application process before being accepted onto the course.

Things you should know:

- * The course consists of 4 sessions on Zoom over 4 days; each session is 3 hours long
- * This is an assessed course
- * Numbers will be limited to allow for quality discussion
- * You will receive all the resources required to deliver the course with your training, including the digital resource
- * You will be trained to deliver the 2 part Talking Mats Course. This course runs over two half days - each participant producing a film of a Talking Mat to share in the second session
- * On successful completion of this course, you will be Licenced to deliver Talking Mats training courses within your organisation
- * An annual charge applies to maintain your licence the year after qualification
- * There is a small participant fee payable to Talking Mats for each person you train
- * Cost: £850

Please do not hesitate to contact us at info@talkingmats.com should you require any further information.